The CORE

How you young ladies of Richmond, what do you really know about "flappers"? How many of you know that the work of the office is not entirely devoid of its connections, in manners, with our "Tillie" and her tolls.

When the little ladies of the key-board learned to powder their noses in public and lip-suck their sweet upper and lower lips distributors the comment was made that the "flapping" of the powder puff gave the impression that it had become a cushion to make one's face massage with the aid of a flapping flap of the ready puff.

The magazine "Life" suggested that if the ladies insisted on powdering and painting in public places, restaurants, hotels, and parked automobiles, that men could as readily shave in the same conspicuous places.

Then came the application of "flapper" to the sweet young girls who hadn't time at home before morning "Mack" and the Boss to dress their fair faces with the talcum, and who painted, lip-suck, and applied the pliant cotton-sphere to their otherwise unvarnished countenances.

So, if you happen to be in the "flapper" class, you know how you got the title.

Arthur Flisk, former postmaster of San Francisco, is not unknown locally. Flisk was a frequent visitor in Richmond several years ago, and today our people learned that he was preparing to assume his duties on April first as United States Commissioner at San Francisco, succeeding Thomas E. Hayden, who resigned because of ill health after twelve years of service. Flisk has been serving as agent and attorney for the alien property custodian. He was postmaster from 1904 until 1912.

Flisk formally tendered his resignation yesterday, and within an hour after Federal Judge Frank H. Kerrigan conferred over the telephone with Judge A. F. St. John in Sacramento, Flisk's appointment was announced. Hayden was reappointed along with other commissioners last December for a third term in handling war risks in connection with the loss of a $7500 bond of Joe Parente, a convicted runner, by United States Attorney George J. Hatfield.

Judge Frank Kerrigan, by the way, was a member of the Press Club of San Francisco when that organization was in Ellis street above Powell. Those were the days when the city was as wet as the north channel and the club had its libation parlor as well as other clubs, such as the Bohemian, Union League, Pacific Union, etc.

One day Kerrigan, who was well known to members as a good "Bottle of Market" boy, came into the bar and said that he wanted something to cool his thirst. The bartender gave him a glass of ice water. Said the now federal judge:

"There will be a time when you fellows will be glad to get this sort of drink." That was before Prohibition and prohibition. The judge is now reported to be strictly on the water wagon and he sits in the matter of some very "dry" subjects. His rulings seem to be devoid of prejudice and intolerance; nevertheless he sticks strictly to the letter of the law.

Suit To Quiet Ford Site Title

MARTINEZ, March 14.—A suit to quiet title to the properties of the Ford Motor company and the Parr Terminal company in Richmond was filed today by the Richmond Investment company, against the two companies. The suit was characterized as purely a legal action, not in any way jeopardizing the title to the property.

Hoover And Smith Win In Primaries

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 14.—Solid Hoover and Smith delegations were selected by New Hampshire in the first of the presidential primaries.

Tallulation of 250 out of 255 towns and city wards today gave clear majorities to delegates pledged or known to favor the secretary of commerce or the governor of New York.

L. A. STUNNED BY AFTERMATH OF DISASTER

LOCAL MAN TO FACE TRIAL ON WIFE CHARGES

Joseph Musso, Richmond bricklayer, faces a jury trial at Martinez Friday as the result of charges brought against him by his wife. Musso is charged with failure to provide for minor children. The case will be heard before Superior Judge Alvarado.

Musso is determined to fight the charge to a finish, while James Hoey, prosecuting attorney, is just as determined to gain a conviction. The plaintiff's defense will rest on the assertion he is willing to work but that he was unable to do so when his brother-in-law attached his wages for a board bill. John Bruno, the brother-in-law, brands this as an excuse.

In the event of a conviction, Musso will be put to work on a public job, his wages of two dollars a day to be turned over to his wife, in compliance with the law governing the situation.

Survey For New Road In Contra Costa Delayed

SACRAMENTO, March 14.—Necessity for utilizing all the state highway engineering force upon "breaking the bottle neck" down the San Francisco Peninsula and upon other projects for which funds are immediately available will delay the survey of the projected new "short route" from Stockton to Oakland through Contra Costa county at least thirty days, Bert B. Meek, director of public works, announced today.

Switch Costs In Stege Area, Richmond, Cut

An extension of the switching zone of the Southern Pacific in Richmond to embrace the Stege area resulting in a cutting of switching costs from $15. per car to $7.50 per car, is under consideration.

A complaint from the Sauter Chemical Company, one of the large Richmond shippers, has been made. The chemical company declared that because Stege, which is now a part of Richmond, is not embraced in the Richmond switching limits it is forced to send its freight traffic to Oakland and pay a rate of $15. per car load lot while the switching zone was extended in Richmond it would enjoy a rate of $7.50 per car load.

Useless Spans Are Under Ban

MARTINEZ, March 14.—Under direction of the county highway department four of the narrow and practically useless wooden bridges on the Martinez-Bay Point highway have been removed and large-diameter culverts substituted for the short spans which permitted the drain of storm waters only and which on account of their being raised above the highway level, narrow and slippery of surface in foggy weather were dangerous points for the constantly increasing traffic.

At points where the culverts have been installed the road grade has been widened preparatory to eventual widening of the entire highway.

PLANS FOR NEW INNER HARBOR ARE COMPLETE

Plans and specifications for the new $500,000 facility to be built on the inner harbor jointly by the Parr Terminal Corporation and the City of Richmond are now ready. They will be submitted to the City Council at an early date and bids should be asked for within two weeks, according to City Manager James A. McVittie.

The facility is a combined wharf and cargo building, depressed and surface tracks and freight handling equipment and is to be built jointly by the Parr Terminal Corporation, lessees of Richmond's harbor facilities and the city. The city and Parr will share 50-50 in the cost. The city will use a portion of the $500,000 voted last August for harbor improvements to meet its share of the cost.

The facility will be located on the inner harbor, adjacent to the site of the Ford plant and will supplement the present facility located there over which the California Hawaiian Sugar company makes large shipments. It will serve the new industries which will locate on the inner harbor as well as established industries which are planning to extend their water borne shipments.

Butchers Ask For Jury Trial

Request for trial by jury yesterday won continuance of a case against O. R. Ludwig and G. Lohrer, local butchers, charged with catching abalone during the closed season. Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Alstrom fixed March 22 as the date for the trial.

The defendants were taken into custody on January 27 by J. L. Bundock, deputy fish and game commissioner for this district. They were released on their own recognizance to await hearing.

Lohrer will be represented by Attorney Homer Patterson. Counsel for Ludwig was not made known. Officers of the fish and game commission will handle the prosecution.

Old Time River Captain Passes

SUISUN, March 14.—Constantine Barbiera, 63, died at the Solano county hospital after an illness of a month following a stroke of paralysis. Captain Barbiera had been a resident and well known character of Suisun and Richmond for the past 25 years, and was known for his charitable acts and kindly nature.

Coming here from Greece, he bought a small river freighter, "Posidon," which he had operated until his last illness. He was born in Greece in 1865 and came to America when he was about 5 years of age and for some time sailed on large seagoing vessels, but was forced to retire on account of failing eyesight. The funeral service took place at Benicia. He was unmarried and had no known relatives other than two nephews, not living in this vicinity.

Gangster Evil Radio Control Gives British Jurist A Jolt

CHICAGO, March 14.—The ease with which guns and bail are obtained in Chicago amazed Col. Kennedy Cox, distinguished British jurist, here on a visit today.

"These two factors in American criminal practice we in England do not have," he declared. "We require every gun owner to take out a license for which he pays a fee. If he has no good reason for owning a gun he cannot get a license. Because of the fee and the difficulty involved there are so few guns in the hands of other people that the police do not need to carry them."

"If a man is caught with an unlicensed gun he is heavily fined. If, as happens rarely, a burglar or other criminal is found to be armed it means at least one more year on his sentence when convicted."

In England, bail is not granted to every man indicted for a crime."

Investigation Starts To Determine Cause Of State's Awful Tragedy

(By JEROME N. STRAUSS)
(Universal Service)

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—Death continued its gains today in the San Francisco Canyon and Santa Paula Valley flood disasters as the ruined land slowly gave up its dead.

Tonight in improvised morgues in communities near the flood area these were nearly 300 bodies. Scores more are believed to lie in the 100 square miles of silt between the hills and the sea. Undersheriff Eugene Biscailuz after two days work in the devastated area expressed the opinion that the dead would reach the 500 mark. The exact dead will probably never be determined. There are bodies, it is believed, that lie too deep to be recovered. Estimates place the estimated missing at 350. The names of about 100 of these are listed as known. Of the dead, perhaps half have been identified.

Now and then you hear of an automobile owner who has run his car a hundred thousand miles or more. This is not so wonderful when you compare it with the records of Buick and Studebaker, which consider double that mileage only a fair return on their investment. Proper lubrication is the only antidote for mileage. Keep your car clean, keep nuts and bolts tight and keep it well lubricated and you too can get long years of service. TAXLESS CITIES

Until a day or two ago there was one presumably ideal town in the United States. Ideal, that is, for the average citizen, because he had to pay no local taxes.

Affairs in this marvelous community were administered so capably that expenses were fully covered by income.

The name of that place is South River, N. J. It broke out into the news when it broke its taxless record.

The reason for its reversal of form is that South River, N. J., has decided to have paved streets.

Paved streets cost money. Somebody has to pay when the bills become due, and as money does not grow on trees in South River, N. J., the amount is taken from the bankroll of the town's citizenry.

All of which is good business. It is worth more to the residents of community to pay for improvements than it is to struggle along without improvements.

Graft and inefficiency should be wiped out. Wherever detected, they should be shown up and the perpetrators punished.

But it is preferable to run a chance with these than it is to avoid them by voting no money for improvements.

It is all right to consider living in a taxless town. But the place that is best in which to live is the one that spends plenty of public money for the right kind of public works.

New York's Gas Lit Life

CLINTON O. ROUSSEAU, venerable pillar of St. Matthew's Church, whose recent marriage to the beautiful Belle De Foy was a society event, trails her on a trip from friends to the studio of a certain artist, whose features will be instantly recognized. Hubby finds his young bride having her charms immortalized on canvas. The said that words were handled, little went home pronto!

Vigorous Health

I often suggest graduated exercise but some of my readers do not seem to understand just what I mean by this. In general graduated exercise means exercise that is started with a small amount and increased gradually. The exact kind and amount used at the start will, of course, vary somewhat in individual cases. As a rule, however, it is always safe to start with walking, gradually increasing distance and speed. If you are able to take a brisk walk of one mile general exercise can be added.

The general exercise is begun with simple flexion and extension movement such as bending the head in all directions, flexing and extending the arms, bending and twisting the body. Three to five repetitions of each movement are enough at the start. This can be increased by one or two every other day. Omit the general exercise one or two days per week. When able to take such movement ten times exercise in a reclining position can be added, such as raising and lowering the legs, sitting up and down, arching the back and variations of the same. Thus the amount and resistance of the exercise can be gradually increased.

Are oranges and other such acid foods harmful in a case of specific infection of the aorta? No. The usual natural treatment employed in such cases would be a fast for up to ten days, followed by the milk and orange diet together with alternate hot and cold sitz baths and all general health building measures.

I have terrible pains in my back and the doctors diagnosed the case as "rheumatism" of the spinal vertebrae, this more dangerous than rheumatism in other parts of the body? What diet would you suggest? Miss K. Rheumatism is really simply a general toxemia and is not any more dangerous in one part of the body than in another. However, the severity of the symptoms may vary with the location. Rheumatism is generally relieved by the usual natural regimen would be an orange and grapefruit diet for seven to ten days, followed by a largely raw fruit and vegetable diet together with sweat baths twice per week, daily dry friction and cool baths, deep breathing of fresh air and such exercises as the condition permits.

I have pain around the liver, bitter taste in the mouth, enlargement of the intestines and bile duct, blood in stool and acidities. Has liver failed? Do the doctor advise operation. What would you suggest? M. D. I would suggest that you give nature a chance. The usual treatment in such a case would be an orange, grapefruit and lemon diet for five days or longer if necessary, followed by a largely raw fruit, vegetable and buttermilk diet, together with abdominal exercises, deep breathing, alternate hot and cold sitz baths, and possibly spinal manipulations. Several fruit diets may be required.

Affairs of the Heart and Your Marriage Problems

Patricia Lee

Patricia Lee answers questions relating to problems of married life. Names and address should be added to letters as a mark of good faith but will not be published. Readers who desire private answers should inclose a stamped self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover cost of typing, etc. Because of space limitations it is not possible to print answers to all letters received, and readers who wish an early reply should take advantage of this special service. On account of the large quantity of mail coming to this department, about ten days should be allowed for a reply. Write to Patricia Lee, care of this paper.

Dear Patricia Lee:

I am married one year and a half and have a son three months old. My wife's people are always trying to persuade her to leave me. At one time, before my son was born, I came home after a hard day's work and found my flat empty. I took her back, but she is forever complaining. I bathe the baby and take it out for an airing, wash the dishes and do all the cleaning while she sits around in her bathrobe. Through sickness I have lost half of my earning power, but she is not kind to back up and take it as it comes. I don't want to leave her, but something must be done.—MARTIN.

Dear Martin—

I don't hold with that old adage "the more you beat 'em the better they be," but I do think you perhaps stress on the side of gentleness. Of course, you would want to help while your wife was getting strong again after the baby's birth. I think her illness is the cause of her fault-finding attitude, too. However, while you must continue to care for the baby a little longer, I should insist that you have your efforts appreciated. You are doing the best you can and the least she can do is to encourage and cheer you. As for any interference from your mother-in-law, discourage that at the start. It will only mean a disagreeable row later on, so you might as well take a firm stand right now.

DADDY DUSK

After Twinnie and Lindy had finished eating their chop suey, Lindy decided that they had better start on a tour of inspection of China.

They went over the cities with their funny temples, and finally got out to the sea.

"Maybe we'd better call on the emperor," Lindy said, and Twinnie thought how funny it was to call on the emperor when there wasn't any emperor any more. China was a republic, she had read in her geography just a few weeks before.

But she wouldn't tell Lindy for anything, because Lindy knew everything. And then, suddenly, they were stopping in front of a big palace, and out came a man with gorgeous embroidered robes and long fingernails.

"I am the Emperor of China," he said.

"And I," said Lindy, "am Charles Lindbergh."

"Yes, I have heard of you," the emperor said, "Come on in." You can park the little girl with my women. We men of China don't entertain children."

Twinnie felt very, very small and unimportant.

But Lindy smiled his best smile at her and whispered, "Don't mind him. He has to live up to the customs of his country," and went in with the smiling, bowing emperor.

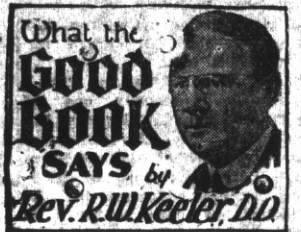

Twinnie found a pretty little Chinese lady bowing before her. "Come with me, lovely little girl," she said.

THE JAZZ SINGER, starring Al Jolson, is a Warner Bros. picture. It is based upon the play by Samson Raphaelson.

SYNOPSIS

Al Jolson as Cantor Rabinowitz. Mary Dale as Mary Dale, a dancer, who becomes a jazz singer. The Cantor, discovering his son's profession, disowns him. Jack's show opens the Eve of Yom Kippur. Dillings, the baker of the show, jealous of Mary's love for Jack, withholds his money, leaving Lee, the producer, dependent on Jack for success. The Cantor is ill and Mrs. Rabinowitz comes to dress rehearsal to beg her son to sing in the synagogue that night. Unable to withstand her pleadings Jack returns home. Lee and Mary follow him.

"Nothing of the sort," Mary stared up. "You're being just as silly as he is. Why, that boy's crazy to make good for you. You ought to know that. Honestly, Harry, sometimes I wonder how on earth you ever got where you are when you know so little about people. Give Jack three days, and he'll be back, ready to sing his heart out for you."

"You take one look at him and you'll change your mind," Lee retorted. "I know—I've been talking to him."

"Well, where is he? I want to see him. I've got to talk to him—bring him back to his senses. He can't stay down here. Why, his whole career will be ruined."

"I wish you could do something with him, Mary," Lee nodded thoughtfully. "But I don't think you can. I'm going to talk to his mother. You'd better, too. If we don't notice the door opening."

"Mama, you'd better get ready. The services will begin soon." Jack entered the room, his face blazing black in his strained, white face, his prayer shawl and skull cap in his arms. "Mary! Suddenly he realized the presence of the girl. "You came!"

They stood gazing at each other for a long moment. Only the ticking of the clock broke the stillness of the air.

CHAPTER XX

"I'm glad you came," Jack made no move to approach Mary. He only stared at her. He did not see his mother's frightened glances or notice her apparent emotional strain.

"Jackie," Mrs. Rabinowitz spoke faintly, "Jackie, I should ask you something. I want you should tell me the truth." Jack nodded.

"Jackie answer me: Are you singing tonight, because you're me and your papa and your God—because you want to be in the synagogue on the Day of Atonement, or is it in your heart you should sing jazz music in the theaters?"

"Mama!" There was a shopkeeper's terror in Jack's cry. He turned on Mary and Lee savagely. "What are you two doing here? What are you trying to do to me? He demanded. "Did you put this into my mind? You came!"

"I did, Jack," Lee admitted. "And so did I," Mary insisted. "Oh, Jack, won't you try to understand? I love you, Jack. I love you. I love you so much that I can't bear to see you go down that road. I only want to know that you are really being true to yourself by staying here—and then I'll go. But I'll come back to you. Jack—I'll come back. Mary held out her hands, pleading. "Just tell me that you lied when you said that the only thing that you really cared about was your career. Tell me that you lied when you told me that nothing was as dear to you as your work. Tell me those were lies—and then I'll go."

Jack clenched his teeth, the nails of his tense, shut fists dug deep into the palms of his hands. He turned to his mother. "Get ready, Mama. We'll be late."

"Jack, tell me the truth before we go," Lee faced the boy about. "Do you or do you not want to come back to the theatre. When I was talking to you just a few minutes ago didn't you want to come back with me? Tell me, Jack, what you want?"

"Jack, when you were talking to me this afternoon, Mary broke in, "I asked you whether you cared about your career in the stage. I can remember your answer, and the way you said it. You said, 'It's the only thing in the world I do care about. Was that true?'"

"Jackie, do you want to sing in the synagogue tonight?" Mrs. Rabinowitz questioned eagerly. "And Jack looked about him in desperation. He was like a trapped animal now. There was no way to escape. He sank down in a chair emotionally exhausted. "No, I don't want to," he muttered. (To be continued)

"DANCE" SHOULD NOT HAVE BEEN CHURCH NOTE

Rev. A. L. Webb, pastor of the First Christian church objects to an item that appeared in this paper in which it was stated, a "dance" was given at the church Tuesday evening.

The pastor has good grounds for protest, because no dance was held.

The error occurred in the reporter taking notes over the phone, and is one of those regrettable things that will happen once in a while in the strenuous work of getting out a newspaper.

N. W. PACIFIC LOSES ITS FIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, March 14.—The Northwestern Pacific railroad today lost its fight to prevent competitive stage lines from establishing direct contact with San Francisco when the state railroad commission granted the Golden Gate Ferry company, permission to establish a terminus at the Union stage depot here.

Under the ruling, passengers may board the stages anywhere along its route between Santa Rosa and Sausalito and travel to Fifth and Mission streets here without alighting. The stages will cross the bay on the Golden Gate ferries. Passengers on the Northwestern Pacific trains must leave the trains at Sausalito, cross the bay on ferries, and then take street cars at the Ferry building here.

San Antonio, Tex., March 14.—With faded uniforms of both Blue and Gray waving their last gallant battle now against invading moths, as the aging ranks of the Civil War inevitably die away, a famous sculptor, Gutzon Borglum, has been asked to perpetuate one more hour of that great National epoch.

Therefore San Antonio will once again give birth to the sculptor's conception of Confederacy, while these and are combine to materialize "the spirit of the south." As Mr. Borglum has adopted San Antonio as his home, North Carolina's proposed memorial to Pickett's famous charge during the battle of Gettysburg will be made here.

Numerous memorials have been made by Mr. Borglum for the south, this being the latest in a long list.

"You must be quite a Confederate Mr. Borglum," it was suggested.

"I was born a rebel," he replied. "My people started the whole thing back in Europe; they had the audacity to declare war on Denmark. Rebellion is sometimes a marvelous thing. The man who throws aside all accepted bonds and revolutionizes either himself or his ideas is a rebel. But, of course, that's entirely aside from the subject."

Standing in a corner of Mr. Borglum's picturesque studio stood the real subject, a small model showing five figures straining ahead to an objective almost tangible, on conquerable determination on their haggard faces. These five soldiers, made in bronze of heroic size, will be placed by North Carolina in the battlefield of Gettysburg to memorialize one of the most stupendous stories of human bravery.

Powder My Back

BY ARLINE DE HAAS

Here's just the right story for newspaper readers. Spicy, but not risqué; plenty of love interest and an abundance of humor. Starts in the RECORD-HERALD next week.

Fritzi Foy, star of the musical comedy "Powder My Back," finds her show closed by Rex Hale, an overzealous reformer. Highly indignant, Fritzi determines to revenge herself on Hale. She gains entrance to his home through a fake automobile accident. Claude, her press agent impersonating a doctor, declares that Fritzi must not be moved until she has completely recovered. Hale is wild with rage, but his son, Jack, falls in love with the actress although he is already engaged to Ruth Stevens, a charming flapper.

Ruth denounces Fritzi for stealing her sweetheart. Fritzi realizes that her little plan has only caused unhappiness for an innocent person. She packs her clothes and is about to leave when she meets Hale. Fritzi confesses the hoax. Hale sees that she is a very desirable woman and declares his love for her.

Jack, finding Fritzi gone, rushes to her hotel. The actress who has promised Ruth she will cure Jack for all time, receives him with open arms. With the assistance of the belongings of an old-time actress, Fritzi makes Jack understand she is not so youthful as she appears. Jack is appalled at the woman he has asked to marry him is old enough to be his mother. Fritzi keeps up the deception, going ahead with plans for an elopement. Jack rushes out of the room and finds Ruth waiting in the hotel lobby. He is happy to find that his old sweetheart is willing to forgive and forget.

In her room Fritzi laughs over her successful coup. She, too, is happy, having been asked to become Mrs. Rex Hale.

WERD DRAMA STARTLING TALE OF HUMAN LIFE

if you like mystery drama, you are going to enthuse over
"Alias the Lone Wolf," the Columbia feature picture now at the Richmond Theatre. It has all the allure and intrigue that are associated with stealthy figures moving in the dark, menacing shadows and plotting and counterplotting. The thrills are many.

The major part of the action takes place on an ocean liner.
The heroine, Eve de Montalva, is smuggling a valuable collection of jewels into the United States. It is her intention to sell them for all she can get. The sum realized is to go toward restoration for a large sum of money her brother has embezzled.

But alas for the best laid plans,
etc. The knowledge that Miss De Montalva has in her possession a king's ransom in jewels is shared by a gang of desperate and unscrupulous thieves, who have taken passage on the same local in order to filch them from her.
Also on board is Michael Lanyard,
"The Lone Wolf," (Bert Lytell), who is known as one of the most daring adventurers on the continent.

It would be unfair to reveal all the details of the plot, or the manner in which the tables are turned on the gang and Miss De Montalva, made safe for smuggling, restored to her. Oh, yes, the gang gets the jewels, but only for a while! A swift moving plot, which starts soon after the story opens, and this is brought to a successful close with the finale.

Altogether, "Alias the Lone Wolf" can be set down as a worth while screen play.

Bert Lytell, as usual, is excellent in the part of the hero, a familiar and likeable characterization. Lois Wilson, as the very-much beseeched heroine, is good to look upon and plays her part with naturalness and restraint.

Other film features on the same program include "Cool Off," a comedy full of riotous laughter, and the current news events.

LEAD PLANT'S STOCK QUICKLY FINDS BUYERS

Common stock totalling $75,000 in the Lead Products company, issuance of which was recently authorized by the state corporation department, was yesterday reported by officials of the company to have been immediately taken up by friends of H. C. Witt, president of the plant at Sixteenth street and Channel avenue. The stock was divided into 7500 shares at $10.00 per share.

The plant has been in operation since the latter part of 1927, and the capitalization follows the invention of a new process by Witt, who successfully demonstrated the advantages of a new furnace over old methods smelting. Battery plates are collected by the company from various bay points the lead being retained through a process of smelting.

T. Lorentzen is secretary of the organization. With Witt and Lorentzen on the board of directors are A. T. Witt, A. M. Enewold and T. H. DeLap.

PUBLIC BARRED FROM HANGINGS AT VANCOUVER

(By Universal Service)

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 14.—The public and newspapermen will not witness the hangings at Valley Field, Que., of George McDonough and his wife Doris for the murder of a Montreal taxi driver.

Advices today from Quebec stated that the Provincial government has ordered that hereafter the public and newspapermen be barred from all hangings.

In future the coroner's jury and physicians will be admitted to view the bodies and carry out their death verdict duties only after the actual executions are over.

More than 700 applications for permission to witness the McDonough hangings have been refused.

Immediately. The request was made by C. C. Peague, chairman of the general committee at Santa Paula, Ventura county.

Ventura county's list of dead stood at 123 tonight. Santa Paula reported 47 bodies, Fillmore, 48, Moorpark, 19 and Oxnard and Ventura 9.

In Los Angeles county 100 bodies have been recovered. Newhall reported 43, Castaic, 25, Edison Camp, 20, Southern Pacific section camp 20.

Ventura county tomorrow will begin the work of inoculating hundreds of refugees against typhoid. Health officials declare that the drinking water remains pure and the inoculation is a preventative measure.

Some 5,000 workers are toiling in the flood zone seeking for the dead, caring for the survivors, fighting the danger of pestilence and speeding the task of rehabilitation generally.

DEATH TOLL UNCERTAIN

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—Known casualties in the San Francisco and Santa Paula valley flood stood at 250 today, according to the most accurate reports obtainable from the devastated region.

This figure is supposed to represent the number of bodies actually recovered. There may be, and probably are, duplications in the tabulation, because of the manner of handling the remains of flood victims.

Bodies are brought to improvised morgues at the nearest community. There is a constant transfer of bodies from these communities to larger centers of population, such as Ventura. This system makes it difficult to obtain an absolute check.

It is not unlikely that the death toll, when finally computed, will pass the 300 mark.

Of the bodies recovered, 131 have been reported as identified. It is estimated that 363 persons are still unaccounted for. The names of 107 of these are listed as known. It is probable that the veil of uncertainty never will be lifted from the fate of a number of the missing.

Many transient workers were in the path of the flood. It is regarded as unlikely that a number of these who escaped with their lives ever will report back to employers.

The theory of water seepage continues to be regarded as the most probable cause of the collapse of the dam. According to this, it is believed a side of the dam was weakened by water

ENTIRE PLANT WILL SOON BE 'ON THE MOVE'

(By Universal Service)

Considered to be one of the biggest building moving jobs in the Eastbay, Herbert D. Baker, local contractor and a crew of Richmond men are moving the plant of the White Pine company in Alameda from the property of the Alameda Belt Line a distance of 185 feet.

The huge frame building measures 300 by 135 feet and weighs approximately 1000 tons. Actual moving of the building has been under way the past two weeks and has caused considerable interest among the building movers of the Bay district.

Baker declared yesterday that the structure in all probability would be placed on its new foundations by the end of the week. The necessity for moving the building was caused by the need of the railroad for the land on which a portion of the building rested to complete its track system prior to the rush of spring business.

Due to the rainy weather and the softness of condition of the land, work on moving the building was considerably hampered.

PEACE PLANS VAGUE SAYS HUGH GIBSON

(By Universal Service)

GENEVA, March 14.—"Ask the Outja Board."

That was the answer of Ambassador Hugh Gibson, head of the American delegation, when I asked him today what progress toward European disarmament had been made by the preparatory disarmament commission of the League of Nations which reconvenes tomorrow after a three-month recess.

He said the vagueness of the disarmament situation and the uncertainty of the moves that will be made to start off the movement to begin reducing armaments.

At the coming sessions, Gibson indicated, as things stand, America may play more the role of an observer than an active participant in this meeting for the league's feeble attempt to disarm the world.

The first point in the agenda is the report of the preparatory committee that would justify even partial disarmament. As America is not represented on that committee and had no part in its deliberations, it is improbable, that the American delegation will enter into the active discussion of its report.

The second topic is the Russian proposal to abolish armies and navies. The American delegation seems inclined to let the other side look on and listen.

Litvinoff, head of the Russians, is the most active of the disarmament delegates, and today he is determined that the Russian proposal shall be seriously studied and discussed.

British and French influences, on the other hand, are at work to sidetrack the Russians by having the proposal referred to a sub-committee for study before it is taken up for discussion in the conference.

Working on the containing hill structure.

William Mulholland, chief engineer of the water and power department, has advanced a tentative theory that the disaster was caused by a major ground movement in the hills forming the western buttress of the dam.

SHOALS BILL OBTAINS QUICK HOUSE ACTION

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Less than 24 hours after the Senate passed the Norris bill providing for government operation of Muscle Shoals, the House Military Affairs committee today began consideration of the measure, with a bright prospect of swift action.

Several committee members expressed themselves as ready to vote immediately.

Attorney-General Sargent has been asked by the committee for an opinion on whether electrical power produced by the government at Muscle Shoals would be subject to regulation by State utility commissions.

Under provisions of the Norris bill, the government would operate the hydro-electric resources of Muscle Shoals and sell the power to communities and industries.

Consequently the power trust has raised the bugaboo that State utility commissions will prevent the government from underselling private companies.

Rep. Sparks (R) of Ohio, a member of the Military Affairs committee, declared himself in favor of the provision for government operation of Muscle Shoals.

"Muscle Shoals has been kicking around in Congress for years. It is high time that we come to a 'show-down,'" he said.

"I wish I'd known"

There's always a new experience ahead—something you haven't done before and which calls for a decision.

You become engaged—and immediately you are called upon to decide on the purchase of many, many things you never bought before.

You marry—and furniture, draperies, silverware, china, talking machines, oil-burners, gas-stoves, automobiles claim your dollars and call for your choice.

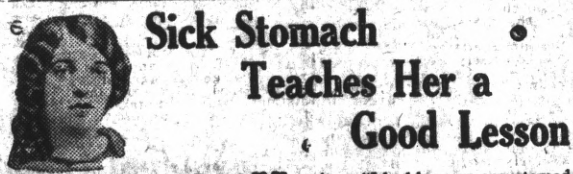

A baby comes—and again you face a new experience in purchasing clothes and powders and blankets; in buying a crib, baby-carriage, foods, toys.

Next—what school? For the years pass incredibly fast. One more, a new decision.

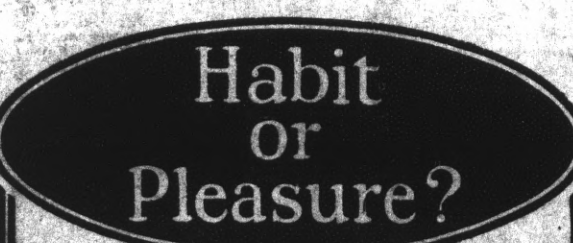

Every room in your house requires a choice. Every meal served in your dining-room results from your having decided on what to serve. Every day confronts you with a multitude of possibilities from which you must select those which make life happier and better, and make the dollars go farther.

How on earth are you going to make those decision? How can you know what you want and what you don't want? How can you buy to such advantage that you'll seldom, if ever, have occasion to use that futile phrase, "I wish I'd bought something else"?

MULLEN PACT SURVEYED IN STATE PROBE

CHICAGO, March 14.—The Attorney General of Illinois will be called upon to decide whether Jim Mullen's contract with Sammy Mandell is valid or not.

The Attorney General also will be called upon to rule whether or not "Strangler" Joe Lewis should be fined for not appearing in Chicago five days ahead of his scheduled match here last Monday night.

Mullen, under the supervision of Tex Rickard, Eddie Kane, also would mind a New York fight, but did inadvertently sign the Mullen contract.

The Illinois commission believes the contract will hold in each of the twenty-seven states which is a member of the National Boxing Association.

In case the Attorney General rules with the commission, then of course, Kane would probably think a second time before he signed with Rickard.

For if he and his fighter were suspended in Illinois, they would likewise be suspended in each of the other twenty-seven states, which wouldn't be so good for them.

In regard to "Strangler" Lewis, his contract called for him to be in Chicago five days before his fight, but inasmuch as this rule is not on the commission books, there is not much worry about it. He might be fined.

But this Mandell matter is serious. It may be that after all Chicago holds the whip handle and will swing Mullen into line for the championship battle here, New York to the contrary notwithstanding. And then again, it may be a battle to see which is the stronger, the New York Athletic Commission or the National Boxing Commission.

PICTURED here are Johnny Risko, boxing's balloon heavyweight, the heavier-than-air battler, and Jack Sharkey, the subdued socker of Boston, who squared off at New York Monday night in Tex Rickard's heavyweight elimination tourney. The match failed to arouse any great degree of enthusiasm among the fans and neither scrapper is seriously considered as having much of a chance against Gene Tunney. Rickard is having difficulty in providing a suitable opponent for the champ.

TENNIS CLUB TO PLAY TECH TEAM

With everything pointing toward a victory, the tennis club of the local high school will meet the Oakland Tech team here Friday afternoon in two double and two single matches. A large gallery is expected to lend moral assistance to the local racquet wielders.

Donald Seawright and Reed Bullock, veterans, are expected to bear the brunt of Richmond's attack.

Three more games for this match have been scheduled by the high school tennis club. On the 21st they play Roosevelt grammar school; Mt. Diablo on the 22nd, and Berkeley on the 29th. Chances for victory appear favorable in the first two contests, but doubt exists whether the Richmond racquetists will be able to go over the Berkeley hurdle.

Harold Skow Elected Captain Of Wardens

Harold Skow was last night elected captain of volunteer game wardens at a meeting of the Richmond Sportsmen's club held in Brotherhood hall and attended by volunteer wardens.

Walter R. Welch, captain of the patrol of volunteer wardens and George Tonkin, United States Federal warden, were present and addressed the group on the duties of fish and game wardens.

Welch stressed the responsibilities of wardens to the people of the state in discharging their duties and cooperating with the people in enforcing the laws.

Tonkin spoke of the aid rendered by the sportsmen of the state and of the biological survey now being undertaken to take care of depletions in various sections of the state.

W. N. Barnes of the Moraga company, offered his 9000 acres of ranchland to the county sportsmen as a preserve for pheasants.

It is expected that the state fish and game commission will stock the preserve with from 150 to 250 pheasants to form a nucleus. The ranch was highly recommended to the Sportsmen's club by William T. Shock, trapper, who is familiar with the country.

Dan McLean of the University of California urged the establishment of two game sanctuaries one in northern and one in southern California.

Following the session, those present enjoyed a Mulligan stew "Feed" prepared by Barney Clark. R. B. Dougall presided over the meeting.

NEW LEAGUE TO START IN APRIL

The acquisition of the City of San Pablo baseball team to the Triple-A summer league was an important feature of a meeting held in Oakland Tuesday night when representatives of rival teams met to formulate plans for the current season. It is announced that schedules will be drawn just as soon as the various clubs line up talent.

It is expected that the new league, fostered by the Maxwell Hardware Company of Oakland, will get underway within two months and possibly earlier.

The San Pablo club is in the market for five players in an effort to bolster the line up.

Manager Phil Jones of the Richmond Sannies was in attendance at the confab.

BERKELEY SEEN AS FAVORITE TO COTRACK MEET

"Not a Chinaman's chance." Such was the information offered by coach Ivan Hill yesterday when pressed for an opinion on Richmond's prospects Friday afternoon, when the local high school track team tangles with Berkeley high and the St. Mary's freshmen in the university city.

Hill was doubtful whether many first or second places would be taken by his charges, believing that their chief accomplishment would probably be narrowed to a few third places.

Berkeley high is on its way to another C. I. F. title this year, and judging from its showing against Fremont high school Tuesday, neither Richmond high nor St. Mary's will provide very serious competition, although the latter's strength is an unknown quantity at this date.

Last year coach Hill's cohorts won four out of five meets, finishing second only to Berkeley. This year the local mentor is content to build up for next season, prospects appearing to be excellent for another title contender.

Anything might happen, however, and usually does when under-dogs enter a contest with the right kind of determination, and it is not at all improbable that the locals will make a far better showing than Coach Hill expects.

In Schafer they have a veteran weight man who puts the shot around 41 feet, and hurls the disc a matter of 118 feet. Berkeley took first place in the former by inches over Schafer's mark, and won the disc event by 113 feet.

Scarsella in the 440, Alimonte in the 100 yard dash have records which favorably with the marks set Tuesday by the Berkeley men. If Bumgarner and Jester display proper form in the pole vault the locals should make a fairly decent showing. Bumgarner clears the bar at 10 feet six inches, three inches over the mark which won Tuesday for Berkeley.

Bear Cubs, Prep Stars To Tangle At Track, Field

Athletes representing the cream of track and field stars of prep schools in Northern California will be arrayed against Walter Christie's Bear Cubs in a meet to be held at Berkeley next Saturday.

Indications point to a hotly contested meet, since many of the visitors, banded together by Coach McKay of Lodi high school, hold records slightly in excess of those hung up by the Berkeley track and field men.

Interest will center on the mile race, when "Red" Mossman, U. C. meets Halstead of Sacramento, and McCombs of Stockton.

The latter two are seconds faster than the Cub star, but Mossman is expected to better his time in the Saturday meeting.

CASH-AND-CARRY PYLE'S TALKING "DOGS" That shrill noise one can hear from the far West is not an echo of the Westminster Kennel Club show.

It is simply the "barking dogs" of the runners, walkers and Al-pine hunters who are engaged in the cross-country race now being staged by Charles (Cash-and-Carry) Pyle. "Barking dogs" is an elastic term which covers anything and everything that interferes with the ease and comfort of the feet, or pedals.

You will note by the public prints that Dr. Pyle's cross-country pilgrims are beginning to complain that their feet are yelling murder. Willie Kolemalm, the Finn, was the first to discover that his feet rivalled the talking dog exhibited at the Boston Dog Show.

Mr. Kolemalm's feet talked right out loud and what they said was: "Willie, act your age."

From day to day, you will learn that Cash-and-Carry Pyle's pilgrims will quit the race in disgust. Their feet will force them to walk right out on Charlie's scheme to make America safe for pedestrians.

In the meantime, Mr. Pyle, always thoughtful, is encouraging his footsore pilgrims every step of the way.

However, Mr. Pyle does all of his vocal rooting from the rear seat of a limousine. Will Pickens, who is Mr. Pyle's press agent, is also urging on the racers. Mr. Pickens occupies the front seat of the limousine.

So far Messrs. Pyle and Pickens have uttered no complaint. With Spartan fortitude, these two intrepid cross-country promoters bear all the discomforts of a heavily upholstered limousine.

Cash-and-Carry Pyle is not one to yield to injuries.

When Kolemalm sat down on the running board of Charlie's limousine and exhibited his swollen feet to Pyle, it is related that Cash-and-Carry, in a voice choked with emotion, said:—

"Willie, this hurts me worse than it hurts you." Then Mr. Pyle instructed his chauffeur to drive on. Kolemalm appreciated the sympathy, but he wanted oil, not "oil."

NO, MR. PYLE IS NOT CRAZY

The promoter of this crazy cross-continental trip is not at all crazy himself. Charles C. Pyle was originally the owner of a 5-10-15 cent movie house in Urbana, Ill. Somehow or other he got the very sound idea that the talents of Red Grange, then playing football for University of Illinois located in Urbana, could be turned into ready money. While the college yelled to high heaven, Pyle persuaded Grange to quit school without waiting for his diploma. They made a fortune out of professional football and allied rackets.

Since then Pyle has given the United States Lawn Tennis Association three distinct strokes of apoplexy.

The first stroke suffered by the U. S. L. T. A. was when Pyle got Suzanne Lenglen to turn professional. Then he lined up Vincent Richards, and last, but not least, he went to the Pacific Coast and showed the light to Miss K. Browne.

Pyle took his tennis junketers on a country-wide tour, playing one-night stands, and cleaned up handsomely. He realized that tennis without competition couldn't last, so he paid off all of his tennis stars and sent them home.

Now Pyle rides in a limousine while the remnants of a field of 267 cross-country marathoners raise blisters on some of the choicest feet ever seen in this country or any other country.

CROSS-COUNTRY CHEF SOLVES A PROBLEM

Probably the most perplexed member of the strange band plodding across the continent is William Burcher, former circus worker, lumberman and miner.

Burcher is the head chef of the "Pyle Inn" cafe, the traveling restaurant and commissary which accompanies the marathoners.

Burcher's perplexity arises from the cosmopolitan character of the field. They are Hungarians, Mexicans, Hopi Indians, Siberians, and at least one Scotchman in the field.

Burcher is called upon to serve goulash for the Hungarians, dried fish for the Finns, spaghetti for the Italians, enchiladas and frijoles for the Mexicans, and finnan haddock for the Canadians.

The Siberian entry threatened to wreck the cook wagon when Burcher admitted that he did not have a stock of fresh walrus blubber.

MacMurry, the Scotchman, wanted a haggis. Sam Richmond, the Hungarian runner from New York, is still looking for an order of goulash.

However, Burcher is a true diplomat.

He serves hash, which is as cosmopolitan in content as the customers at the Pyle Inn Cafe.

Heavy Drive Of Jim Cockburn Is Worrying Price

Coach "Nibs" Price, University of California gridiron coach was yesterday presented with his first problem as spring baseball practice swung into the second week. It seems that Jim Cockburn, the charging fullback from Pasadena has an unusually hefty pair of shoulders which he delights in testing out against the billing machine, with resultant ill effects to said machine.

The bucking machine is equipped with an indicator which registers.

Christie Honored By U. C. Seniors

The senior executive committee at U. C. yesterday announced the appointment of Coach Walter Christie, veteran track and field mentor as patron of "Senior Week."

In dedicating the week to Christie a letter to him stated he had proved himself a true Californian.

Christie's force of the charge. Everything worked well until Cockburn threw his belt against the charger and knocked the indicator of its pins.

"Nibs" was pleased at the display of driving power, but is hard pressed to find something strong enough to withstand Cockburn's lunges.

TROPHY TO BE PRESENTED AT SEASON'S END

Representatives of four Richmond baseball clubs last night met in J. J. Roosevelt Junior high school and formulated plans for the organization of a City Twilight league. It is expected that the season will open on May 1 and close around July 4.

Teams entered are: Standard Sanitary, Phil Jones, manager; Santa Fe, J. Poole, manager; Ben Maliks' Clothing store, Bud Lewis, manager; American Trust company, Dick Austin, manager.

According to announcement by "Doc" Seawright, the lists will not be closed for two weeks, when final plans will be wiped into shape.

It was decided to assess all entrants a fee of five dollars, which will go towards purchasing a trophy to be awarded the winner at the close of the season.

The teams entered are composed of many good ball players and a fast brand of ball is expected to develop. The Malik team last year copped the pennant in the winter league, while the Sanitary nine romped home with the title in the 3-C league and the Richmond City League.

Organizers of the Twilight league decided to charge a nominal gate fee for all games.

"SLUSH FIND" IN OIL CASES SOLON'S TARGET

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Bitter denunciation of the Teapot Dome case and the so-called Sinclair Liberty Bond "slush fund" contribution to the Republican National Committee in 1923 was made on the floor of the Senate today by Senator Caraway (D) of Arkansas.

His voice vibrant with emotion, Caraway flayed Will H. Hays, former Republican National chairman and now czar of the movies, for "peddling" the Sinclair bonds in an attempt to cover up the contribution to the party deficit. He criticized former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall, William M. Butler, present Republican National Chairman, and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon for their part in the Teapot Dome affair.

"Hays knew the goods he was handling were stolen," declared Caraway. "He was trying to help find a market for the thief." Caraway charged that Hays, in his attempt to dispose of the bonds to "dummies" who would contribute like amounts to the Republican deficit was "nothing more than a fence disposing of stolen property."

The Kentuckian condemned both Secretary Mellon and Chairman Butler for keeping silent about Hays' overtures to them to induce them to take a portion of the bonds.

"Mellon and Butler had knowledge of a crime and were not

WOMEN CLUBS WORK TOLD IN YEAR-REPORTS

The annual meeting of the Contra Costa Federation of Women's clubs was held yesterday in Crockett, with Mrs. E. C. Wester at Danville, presiding. All officers gave their annual reports at that time, preceded by the president's report, in which she expressed her pleasure with the general progress thus far in the club year. She stated that the federation had decided early in the term to concentrate efforts of the organization upon a few activities, including the Sunshine camp, the women's and children's wards in the county hospital, milk inspection and the Federation News.

The morning session was made up entirely of reports of officers and department chairmen, followed by luncheon served by ladies of the Crockett Congregational church.

Mrs. Claude Leech of Walnut Creek, Mrs. S. S. Ripley of Richmond and Mrs. Thomas Hanna of Martinez led the general discussion of the proposed revision of the state constitution and by-laws, which will come up for action before the state convention in May.

"January Days in Washington" was the topic of an interesting address given by Mrs. S. S. Ripley, who attended the conference in Washington, D. C. in January on the "cause and cure of war." This conference was sponsored by a number of organizations, each of which was allowed one hundred delegates from various sections of the United States. Mrs. Ripley, Mrs. W. W. Green, state federation president and Mrs. Clara B. Burdett were the representatives attending from California.

Mrs. Ripley in her talk reported on her experiences in Washington, her "listening in" on general federation board meetings, and prominent social affairs attended. She gave the various points of view of the speakers on the conference program, stressing the addresses made by Professor Beazley and Professor Lighthouse Stuart. Mrs. Catt stated that the gathering in Washington was for the study of the philosophy of war and said that she had found 257 excuses for war, but no real reasons. Prof. Tugwell expressed his opinion, according to Mrs. Ripley, that war will never stop until the entire social fabric is reorganized.

Twenty dollars was given by the clubwomen in a voluntary collection for the Pacific Protective Association, located at Oakland. The next county meeting will be held the last Wednesday in May when the West Side Improvement club of which Mrs. J. C. Eaton of Richmond is president, will be the hostess.

A musical tea is planned for April 11, at Martinez, sponsored by the county federation with Mrs. J. E. Taylor of Oakley as chairman.

Among the Richmond clubwomen who attended the county meeting were: Mrs. S. B. Wilson, Mrs. S. S. Ripley, Mrs. C. F. DeStijde.

PLEA FOR DRIVER OF BOOZE CAR PROVES FUTILE

Testifying in behalf of his client in a last minute effort to save him from facing trial in the superior court on account of driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, Attorney Will S. Robinson's appeal proved futile and the defendant, James F. McGrath, was bound over for trial in the higher court at the conclusion of a preliminary hearing before Police Judge Odell yesterday afternoon.

Declaring that he had no witnesses to refute testimony designed to show that McGrath was under the influence, Robinson volunteered to swear under oath that when he saw his client, on the eve of his arrest, February 22, he detected no indication that McGrath was intoxicated. H. B. Jacobs, prosecuting attorney, at this point reminded the court that Robinsons visit with McGrath occurred about four hours after the defendant's arrest.
